

50 multi-asset class research providers from 25 countries added to our Real-time Research and Estimates collections in 2018

We augmented our Estimates collection in Q1 with the addition of Sandler O'Neill + Partners, whose 20 analysts publish detailed equity research and estimates on 300+ financial services companies. The firm provides coverage of banks and thrifts, investment banks, REITs, financial technology, insurance, and asset managers.

Sandler O'Neill was recently ranked the top financial adviser for bank and thrift M&A in the first half of 2018 both by deal value and number of deals in S&P Global Market Intelligence's league table rankings.

Other noteworthy 2018 additions

Nykredit is one of Denmark's leading financial services companies. Its research team consists of more than 20 analysts within macroeconomic and financial research with a special focus on complex investment and financing strategies in the Nordic markets.

In addition to equity research, DNB Markets' award-winning credit research is now available to S&P Global Market Intelligence users. The team assesses corporate debt and covers specific industry sectors to provide key insights for fixed income investors and a leading credit research product in Norway.
