

76 new contributors added in 2017, BNP Paribas (Asia) joins our collection in 2018

You need insights to identify trends and power your investment decisions. We're committed to providing you with research that can help you gain those insights. In 2017, we signed 76 new multi-asset class research providers from 32 countries to our third-party Investment Research and Estimates offerings.

This year we have augmented our worldwide coverage of companies and sectors with the addition of BNP Paribas, a leading financial institution that produces research on 370 companies across 13 countries including China, India, Japan, Hong Kong, Korea, Singapore, and Taiwan.

BNP Paribas joins our Aftermarket Research collection comprising 25 million+ reports from 1,700+ investment banks and independent research firms around the globe.

New Contributors in 2017

Included in the 76 additions we made in 2017 are D.A. Davidson and ABG Sundal Collier, both premier contributors not available on an embargoed basis through any other vendor, as well as Investec Bank and IPOPEMA Securities. We also added four new research providers in China, including the Bank of Communications, along with three credit rating agencies.

D.A. Davidson, based in the US, covers nearly 300 companies across 19 industries and has been recognized for its work by Institutional Investor, Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, and Forbes.

ABG Sundal Collier, based in Sweden, covers 270 Nordic stocks with 32 analysts and has been consistently recognized for its research excellence. The firm was ranked #1 in the 2016 Extel Survey for Nordic Research, and #2 in Institutional Investor for Nordic Research in 2016.

Based in London, Investec is an international specialist bank with research that covers all equity sectors in the UK and Europe. It produces in-depth research on approximately 300 UK-listed companies spanning 13 industry sectors with more than 30 research analysts. IPOPEMA Securities covers 50 small and mid-cap companies on the Warsaw Stock Exchange.
