Global Equity Markets through a Historical GICS Lens
Market wisdom requires historical perspective. You need to effectively understand the ever-evolving dynamics in the global equity markets and inherent impact on investors over time. That’s where you’ll find GICS History—GICS History North America and GICS History International—helping strategists, analysts and investors compare companies outside their local markets. Feel the pulse of the market, identify evolving sectors and industries over time, and zero in on your investment opportunity.

About the Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS®)

The Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS®) is an enhanced industry classification system jointly developed by Standard & Poor’s Financial Services LLC (S&P) and MSCI in 1999. GICS was developed in response to the global financial community’s need for one complete, consistent set of global sector and industry definitions and has become the standard widely recognized by market participants worldwide. It sets a foundation for the creation of replicable, custom-tailored portfolios and enables meaningful comparisons of sectors and industries globally. The Global Industry Classification Standard is the exclusive property of Standard & Poor’s Financial Services LLC (S&P) and MSCI.
