Use Cases

For Investment Managers

Investment managers can access data on insurers and their general insurance account assets through MMD's new insurance database. This can be an invaluable tool that helps identify key decision makers and to what extent insurers are outsourcing portions of their general insurance asset portfolio to external investment managers.

For Insurance Firms

The asset management side of insurance firms can leverage our new insurance database to evaluate and act on business opportunities. A user can focus on the portion of general insurance account assets that are outsourced to external money managers and help provide contact details of key decision makers to connect with them.

For Investment Banks

M&A teams that focus on the insurance industry can utilize MMD's new insurance database to identify insurers at the affiliate level based on their primary lines of business (P&C, Life and Health) and focus on those general insurance assets outsourced to external investment managers.
