Sponsorship Opportunities

Celebrating its 31st year, the Power and Gas M&A Symposium is the most influential executive conference in the power sector. Gathering top utility and investment banking executives, renewable energy executives, and policy experts to discuss M&A and industry growth strategies, this conference is a must attend!

Whether you are interested in acquisition as a growth plan, have capital to invest, or are an advisor to the industry, you want to attend, network with executives, and build valuable relationships. Becoming a sponsor is a great way to elevate your firm, build brand recognition, and showcase thought leadership in a professional environment.

Take advantage of this opportunity to align your business with the leading brand in the power and gas industry, S&P Global Market Intelligence.

Why Sponsor?

Position your company as a subject matter expert and:

- Meet face to face with the industry executives and discuss how you can assist them with M&A growth strategies including valuation, testimony, regulatory, and tax assistance
- Showcase your thought leaders and drive new ideas that can transform the industry
- Network in a professional environment while hearing from top industry experts
- Name and Brand recognition: place your firm's brand in a prominent position, maximizing marketing and business development opportunities

Select one of our three sponsorship opportunities to engage with influential decision makers.
