

Budgeting and Forecasting in the SNL Banker solution

Take the pain out of your organization's budgeting process with our streamlined instrument-level forecasting tool for community banks.

Create more accurate forecasts:

- Instrument-level forecasting gives you visibility into the existing portfolio vs. new production needs, down to the specific product/rate
- Automatically pull in up-to-date actuals from your core and General Ledger as the basis for your forecast without manually re-keying data, then re-forecast as necessary on the fly
- Better insight into your portfolios helps you create precise goals to keep your teams on track to meet organizational objectives

Shorten your budgeting cycle:

- Multiple users throughout the organization can work concurrently within a forecast while seamlessly consolidating results
- Advanced security features help you protect your data by choosing which users can view/edit sensitive data
- Since budgets are completed earlier, your finance team will have time to evaluate multiple "what-if" scenarios and select the best possible budget outcome

Budget to actual reporting:

- Publish an official budget as well as multiple forecasts to explore various what-if and rate scenarios
- Performance and yield cost ratios for budgeted performance allow you to track actual results on an ongoing basis

Expertise:

Our advisors, business intelligence analysts, data warehouse developers and product managers are committed to the success of community banks and credit unions. We're dedicated to providing top-notch customer service and helping you optimize the value you're getting from the SNL Banker solution beyond our integrated Budgeting & Forecasting module.
