Introducing the S&P Digital Markets 50 Index

A Hybrid Benchmark for the Crypto Ecosystem

Crypto-linked equities and cryptocurrencies are two sides of the same coin.

The crypto market is quickly evolving, but native digital assets are just half the story. Combining 15 leading cryptocurrencies with 35 publicly traded crypto-linked equities, the S&P Digital Markets 50 Index bridges the gap between TradFi and DeFi and offers diversification across the crypto ecosystem.

Key Benefits

Diversification

As the ecosystem evolves, risks and sources of value will vary over time. A rules-based diversified approach, with capped weighting, helps mitigate risk and addresses the many sources of opportunity that may exist as the landscape changes.

Democratized access

Having a single source of multi-asset crypto coverage simplifies an otherwise complex strategy and makes it accessible to a wider range of market participants.

AI-driven insight

Using built-to-purpose AI, we can identify and weight companies by their relevance to the crypto ecosystem with greater precision.
