Transition to S&P Global Business Involvement Screens

AMSTERDAM, FEBRUARY 17, 2023: S&P Dow Jones Indices (“S&P DJI”) will be transitioning the majority of its indices that exclude companies based on their involvement in certain business activities from the Product Involvement Screens provided by Sustainalytics to the Business Involvement Screens provided by S&P Global. Existing screens will be replaced by the direct equivalent and no modifications will be made to the existing levels of involvement. Please refer to the Sustainalytics to S&P Global Mapping File for more details. Sustainalytics data will still be used for the Global Standards Screening where relevant.

Although some individual companies will undergo changes to their exclusion status, no significant changes to existing exclusions as a whole are expected as a result of making this change.

This change will be implemented on a rolling basis throughout the year for the different indices affected. Please refer to the “Confirmed Indices” tab in the Impacted Indices Spreadsheet for details on the first confirmed batch of indices, along with the effective date of the change. The intended implementation date for additional indices can be found in the “Additional Indices” tab. A separate confirmation will be issued for these indices in line with the schedule noted in this tab. Finally, the “Indices Not Changing” tab provides details on indices which will not be transitioning to the Sustainable1 data set at this point in time.

For any questions about this transition, please contact index_services@spglobal.com, while questions about the data set itself should be addressed to ESGExclusions@spglobal.com.

ABOUT S&P DOW JONES INDICES

S&P Dow Jones Indices is the largest global resource for essential index-based concepts, data and research, and home to iconic financial market indicators, such as the S&P 500® and the Dow Jones Industrial Average®. More assets are invested in products based on our indices than products based on indices from any other provider in the world. Since Charles Dow invented the first index in 1884, S&P DJI has been innovating and developing indices across the spectrum of asset classes helping to define the way investors measure and trade the markets.

S&P Dow Jones Indices is a division of S&P Global (NYSE: SPGI), which provides essential intelligence for individuals, companies and governments to make decisions with confidence. For more information, visit www.spglobal.com/spdji.
