

Decommission of the S&P/BMV CEDEVIS and Certain S&P/BMV Sovereign BONDESD Indices

April 28, 2026: Please be advised that the attached list of S&P/BMV CEDEVIS and S&P/BMV Sovereign BONDESD Indices will be decommissioned as of close of business today.

A value for the S&P/BMV Sovereign BONDESD 1-3 Year Bond Index has not been published since September 1, 2025 because there have been no eligible constituents since that time. The D Series of bonds are no longer being issued by the Mexico Government, therefore, this index will not be published in the future.

A value for the S&P/BMV Sovereign BONDESD 3+ Year Bond Index has not been published since September 1, 2023 because there have been no eligible constituents since that time. The D Series of Bonds are no longer being issued by the Mexico Government, therefore this index will not be published in the future.

A value for the S&P/BMV CEDEVIS Indices has not been published since February 1st, 2026 because there have been no eligible constituents since that time. The constituent bonds were recalled in January 2026, and thus are no longer available in the market. There are no more expected issuances of these bonds, therefore this index will not be published in the future.

In accordance with the above, S&P Dow Jones Indices is no longer calculating end-of-day values for the attached list of S&P/BMV CEDEVIS and S&P/BMV Sovereign BONDESD Indices. Some end-of-day files will be impacted, and others will no longer be posted to the S&P Dow Jones Indices SFTP (EDX) site.

Details about the indices are provided in the link below.
