- v. Is the Materials Select Sector modified or rebalanced only according to publicly stated, predefined criteria, which may require interpretation by the index provider or a board or committee responsible for maintaining the index?

The Materials Select Sector methodology document describes the criteria for managing the index and includes rebalancing rules and the rules for adding or dropping securities, as well as the manner in which corporate actions on such securities are handled.

- vi. Is the Materials Select Sector referenced by futures contracts or options contracts that trade on a national securities exchange that is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission or a domestic board of trade that is designed as a contract market by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (regardless of whether the contracts provide price only or total return exposure to the index or provide for dividend reinvestment in the index)?

As of Jan. 3, 2023, the Materials Select Sector was referenced in the Materials Select Sector e-mini futures contract traded on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange.

- vii. Did the Materials Select Sector provide an annual dividend yield in the immediately preceding calendar year from component underlying securities that is greater than 1.5 times the annual dividend yield of the S&P 500[®] as reported for the immediately preceding calendar year?

The S&P 500 annual dividend yield (which was computed for trailing 2022) was 1.74% and the Materials Select Sector annual dividend yield (which was computed for trailing 2022) was 2.12%.

Therefore, the Materials Select Sector did not provide an annual dividend yield in the immediately preceding calendar year from component underlying securities that is greater than 1.5 times the annual dividend yield of the S&P 500.
